Home away from home

When travelling in Germany, Minden residents will receive a warm welcome if they stop in Minden County or Minden City.

At a reception for 46 visitors from Minden County, Germany, at the community centre Thursday night, local residents were invited to visit their sister city and county in Germany.

Relaying a message from Burgermeister Hainz Roethemeyer, who is the mayor of Minden City, Freidrich Schutte welcomed all Minden residents to visit his county in Germany.

The 46 visitors, most of whom are shareholders in Minden, Germany's Volksbank, have been paying visits to the various Mindens in North America over the past few weeks. According to Schutte, there are 44 places named Minden in the world. And while he says some are much larger than our Minden, "no Minden is so beautiful like this. That we are sure."

This was the first official tour group from Minden, Germany, to visit here. Yet a second group has already confirmed its plans to visit next year, says Schutte.

The idea is that every year a group will come here and the publicity will encourage individuals to do the same. Schutte said he hopes the idea will build a strong link between the two Mindens. He said this sort of communication is good for the children in both countries.

The link between the two Mindens was created a few years ago when some local residents visited the Burgermeister in Minden City, Germany. Schutte, who is a reporter with the Minden Daily News, said that when he heard about the visit, he decided to organize group visits here.

This is the beginning, he said. Next year another group will be visiting and he hopes these group tours will become an annual event.

Minden City is located on Haliburton County Warden Murray Fearrey accepts one of the 1988 calendars from Freidrich Schutte, the guide for the 46 visitors from Minden, Westphalia, Germany. Minden's German cousins were welcomed at a reception at the community centre Thursday night. The calendars display some of the beautiful windmills for which the German Minden has earned much recognition.

Staff acts for expansion

The staff of Haliburton Highlands Secondary School will be going on stage October 15 to help with the Haliburton Hospital fund raising drive.

The entire staff will be involved with the production of The Death and Life of Sneaky Fitch, a comedy western play, says Steve Phillips. He says the staff got together and came up with the idea as a way to raise money for the hospital expansion.

The play is one that was studied a few years ago by the Grade 9 students. Phillips says there are plenty of parts to be filled by the staff and those who will not be on stage will be helping out behind the scenes.

The show is scheduled for October 15 at 7:30 p.m. at the school. Admission is $3 for adults and $1 for students, children and seniors. All proceeds will be donated to the expansion fund.

Minden asked to run ambulance

In a surprise move, Anson, Hindon and Minden Townships council has been asked to assume management responsibilities for the ambulance service that Dysart et al council hopes to abandon.

In a closed meeting prior to last Wednesday's council meeting, Brian Clark from the Ministry of Health and Rob Luke, Supervisor of the Minden District Ambulance Service forwarded a proposal for Anson, Hindon and Minden to assume management duties until the tendering process to choose a private manager can be completed.

Contacted last Thursday, Reeve Sinc Nesbitt said council has not yet decided whether it is willing to take on the job. He said council wants to have a look at the ambulance budget before any decisions can be made. Everything is on hold until council gets a look at the books, he said.

Nesbitt said the offer came as a bit of a surprise to council. They had only been told on Tuesday that the ministry wanted to meet with them. The reeve said he is not aware of what circumstances caused Dysart to give up its management licence.

Also contacted on Thursday, Clark, who is the assistant manager of emergency services at the ministry office in Barrie, said Dysart's request was not a surprise. He said there have been ongoing dealings with the township, which culminated in a meeting on September 14. Then, on September 18, Dysart council voted to terminate its management agreement as of September 30 or as soon as possible thereafter.

Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey said the move was made to eliminate the possibility of his township's liability for unauthorized expenditures. While he says the ministry has always compensated the township when spending exceeded the approved budget, there are no guarantees that this will continue.

The ministry provides an annual budget of over $5,000 to cover management costs. However, there are no guarantees that extra funding will be available should costs exceed this. Fearrey says the costs involved are for things like snowplowing and overhead.

Dysart has managed the ambulance service since 1958, when it was run on a volunteer basis. There are now 12 drivers employed, including six full-time and six part-time.

Both Fearrey and Clark say that the six full-time employees are guaranteed their jobs once the service is tendered out. However, there are no guarantees for the part-time drivers.

In addition to eliminating the risk to the township of having to pay the extra costs, Fearrey says the move will ultimately be putting money into the local economy by creating an opportunity for private enterprise that never before existed. The ministry provides a management compensation allotment when the service is managed privately. This allotment is not available when the service is managed either by a municipality or hospital. Depending on the number of calls, the management compensation could exceed $20,000 a year.

"Is it not better to give it to private enterprise?" Fearrey asked. Between 80 and 90 per cent of the ambulance services in the province are privately managed, according to Clark.

Although Fearrey said his council would like to be relieved of the management duties by the end of the month, the September 30 deadline is flexible. When contacted, he said he was not aware that an offer was being made to Anson, Hindon and Minden as an

No rezoning needed

Construction of the new Home Hardware and Home All Building Centres could begin as early as next spring on property behind Dollo's IGA, John Pentney told Anson, Hindon and Minden Townships Council Wednesday.

Pentney approached council for approval of his plans to build on the property he hopes to purchase from Pat Brezina. Although Reeve Sinc Nesbitt originally urged him to have a portion of the property rezoned, he later agreed that the planned uses of the property conforms to the present zoning.

Pentney said the front part of the property is zoned commercial. This is where the main buildings would be located. The back part of the property is zoned rural and Pentney said this would be used for storage.

When asked for an interpretation of the rural zoning, Chief Building Inspector Peter Oomen said that, in his opinion, storage is an allowable use.

The reeve expressed some concern that the house now standing on the property would become landlocked with no access. However, Pentney assured him that the house would be removed from the property. He said he has already asked the museum if it would be interested in the house.

Staanworth Court

In other news from Wednesday's meeting, council approved a resolution requesting the Lieutenant Governor in Council for permission to use a portion of the Minden Park for the construction of seniors' apartments.

Prior to the meeting, council met in private with representatives of the Staathworth Court Non-Profit Housing Corporation and when the resolution came to the table at council meeting there was no discussion except for a call for a recorded vote.

Councillor Bob Sisson who voted against the resolution, later said he is not opposed to the Staathworth Court proposal, but he felt it should go in a different location. He opposed the selling off of the park land.

Gooderham woman killed in highway accident

Isabell Harren was killed while Donald Carey was severely injured in a tragic accident on Highway 121 on September 18, according to a report from the Minden OPP.

Harren, 57, of Gooderham is dead after the car in which she was a passenger went off the road, hit a rock face and burst into flames. The accident occurred at about 8 p.m. on the highway just west of Highway 648.

Carey, 32, also of Gooderham was taken to Toronto General Hospital with severe injuries, police report.

Fire losses $2.6 million

Fire losses in Haliburton County during 1986 were estimated to be $2,643,000 according to statistics released last week by the Ontario Fire Marshal's Office. The annual report details the fire losses by municipalities across the province and the number of deaths and injuries related to fires.

In 1986 there was one civilian fatality related to fire in this county. That blaze occurred in Monmouth Township.

Three civilian and one firefighter injuries were reported in the year as well, all occurring in Dysart et al.

The fire loss by township during the year are as follows:

Dysart et al: $1,900,000 (a large share of that amount related to the Stedmans store fire last August).

Stanhope Township: $392,000.

Monmouth Township: $152,500.

Anson, Hindon and Minden: $120,600.

Lutterworth Township: $41,000.

Glamorgan Township: $28,600.

Snowdon Township: $8,500.

The following townships reported no loss due to fires during 1986: Cardiff, Bicroft and Sherborne et al.

Correction

A story in the September issue of This Month in the Highlands, incorrectly identified Mr. Murray Robertson as Murray 'Rogers.'

We apologise to Mr. Robertson for any inconvenience this mistake has caused.

Land not needed

Improvements to Davis Lake Road can be made without buying any of the property owned by Mr. Santacono, Lutterworth Township Council agreed at its meeting September 17.

Since the matter had been raised at an earlier council meeting, Deputy Reeve Carol Puffer said she has been out to see the road. She feels it can be made more safe without touching Santacono's property. She said the needed road work should be accounted for in next year's roads budget.

At its September 1 meeting, Lutterworth Council agreed to look into the matter after Santacono had asked what plans the township had for widening of the road in respect to his property.

Boat ramp or trail?

Lutterworth municipal council postponed a decision on whether to accept a boat ramp on the west side of Gull Lake until the present owners clearly mark out the location of the property.

At the September 17 meeting, Councillor Lisa Mercer said she had been out to view the ramp, which had been offered to the township. However, she said it was difficult to confirm the actual location of the property. What appeared to be the ramp was little more than a path, she said. She suggested the owners be asked to plant stakes outlining the property.

Robert Bishop, who is a part owner of the ramp, had requested at council's September 1 meeting that the township accept the boat ramp to serve people on that side of the lake. The ramp, located at the end of "Rackety Trail", is owned jointly by 28 property owners in the subdivision.

Although Bishop had estimated it would cost about $600 to upgrade the ramp, Roads Superintendent Dean Swinson said it would cost thousands of dollars to upgrade the property he believes to be the ramp.

Ontario residents can breathe a sigh of relief now that the trade talks with the United States have been called off.

The stalemate that now exists in the talks is an encouraging sign that Prime Minister Brian Mulroney would rather swallow his pride than sell out the nation, and especially Ontario.

While it is always to our benefit to negotiate improved trade relations with our largest trading partner, it is highly unlikely that Canada could come out the winner in such a comprehensive package as the one discussed. Although assurances were repeatedly offered that Canada stands only to gain as a result of free trade, the secretive nature of the talks could not help but invite panic. It was evident that the true scope of any deal would not be revealed until the last minute, leaving many to wonder if their jobs were at stake. This was especially evident in auto industry, where, despite assurances, we had to wonder if the auto pact truly was not up for negotiation.

Although it has been said that Mulroney had a lot riding on the success of the talks, he should be lauded rather than criticized for pulling his chief negotiator away from the table. There is no disgrace in trying to improve trade relations just as there is no disgrace in walking away from a bad deal.

We can now only hope that this halt in the talks is not just a bluff. It should be noted that we are dealing with the country that invented the game of poker.

Let's finally have this ridiculous notion of a comprehensive trade package put to rest. We can still strive for improved trade by addressing one sector of the economy at a time. The process will take longer, but an issue of such importance should not be hurried.

Kicking back at the Foth

- by Arthur Black -

Everybody present knows The Foth, right? He's the owl, bespectacled chap who pops up once a week on the Front Page Challenge panel, on the back page of every issue of Maclean's Magazine and several times a week on the editorial pages of many Canadian newspapers where, as Southam's Man at The White House, he keeps us apprised of the increasingly dotty goings-on in the sunset days of the Reagan administration.

Readers of Allan Fotheringham know that he is an inveterate shin kicker, mandarin rattler and punter of politics. Foth's the guy who draped the "Wimp" mantle on poor Joe Clark, portraying him as Canada's first Prime Minister unable to keep track of his own luggage.

It's not just people Foth puts the knock on. He's taken runs at the hickish hierarchy that runs the Conservative party; he's harpooned the sleek fat walrus that bask in the second hand smoke of the backrooms of the Liberals. His contempt for the city of Toronto and everything it pretends to be is legendary. The Foth knows how to put the boot in. And he

HAVE makes great progress

Editor:

I would like to inform your readers of the progress of the HAVE Committee. This year's Walk for Water has raised over $12,000 thus far. These funds will allow us to put in six wells in the Gambia.

The money received from last year's Walk for Water is being used to drill wells in the drought stricken areas of East Central India. As your readers may know the situation in this part of Asia is getting worse. The monsoon rains have not come to large areas of this part of the world.

The Rural Community Health Centre project that we initiated at last year's Haliburton Artists Variety Evening is now within $1200 dollars of its goal of $60,500. It is a miracle that we have been able to raise this much in such a short time. The committee has decided to dedicate this year's concert to raising the remaining funds. We have an offer from a Tibetan Dance group to perform with our wonderful local performers. It should prove to be a worthwhile and entertaining evening.

I would also like to mention the pipeline project we supported in northern India. It has been completed and is such a success that several more gravity fed pipelines will be constructed in the area with government support. The committee has received a slide show and tape commentary outlining this project which we have transferred to video tape. This is available to anyone who wishes to use it.

Lastly, I would like to mention our annual general meeting to be held on Saturday, October 3rd at 8:00 p.m. at the Sir Sandford Campus in Haliburton. We are fortunate Mr. David Eadie has agreed to speak to us. Mr. Eadie served as a technical missionary with the United Church of Canada in co-operation with the Catholic and Protestant Missions, Society of Friends, Oxfam and the Government of India. He has been particularly involved with well drilling in Central India and more recently on special assignments for the U.N. in Burma, Indonesia, and New Guinea. The HAVE Committee invites you to meet and hear this extraordinary man.

May the rains continue and may all your wells be full.

Eric Lilius,
R.R. 1, Haliburton.

What do you think about...

Free trade talks?

by Bill Kulas

It may well seem that the months of talks involving free trade with our most important trading partner, and neighbour to the south of us, the United States of America, may be over, for the moment at least!

Simon Reisman, Canada's chief negotiator, pulled out of the talks last Wednesday, blaming unacceptable American positions in certain very key areas.

Needless to say, if a deal is not going to be for the good of our nation then why should there be a deal?

Reisman, a sharp and foxy negotiator, is the man who was responsible for negotiating the Canadian-U.S. Auto Pact, which, by the way, is an excellent example of how free trade can benefit our economy.

Last weekend, I spoke to some business people in Detroit and in Flint, Michigan. Amazingly, very few Americans are aware or are up to date on free trade. As Donald MacDonald, the former Federal Liberal finance minister stated, "The Americans just aren't being serious and I've concluded they don't really want to make a deal." MacDonald, along with some other well known free trade supporters which as Quebec Premier Robert Bourassa, Alberta's Don Getty and British Columbia's Bill Vander Zalm are shaken by recent happenings. The U.S. faces a very serious trade deficit and is mounting a very strong and effective protectionism campaign.

Without a free trade deal, our economy could possibly face a downhill slide in the future. The softwood and potash industries are but two sectors of our economy that have felt the might of American protectionist measures. Some people who just don't know the whole story think Canada is going to be sold out to the Yanks if a free trade deal is ratified.. utter hogwash!

What the Federal Government, along with the majority of the Provincial Governments want is free and unobstructed access to the U.S. market. The idea of ever losing our Canadian identity is without merit. Look at countries such as England, France, Italy and Germany who have successfully implemented the European Common Market. There is even discussion surrounding a new common currency called the Euro-Dollar. Makes a lot of sense, doesn't it?

Unfortunately, the Americans seem to be more pre-occupied with issues such as Latin America and Nicaragua or what is happening in the Persian Gulf, than in dealing with an issue that is of concern to Canada. Will a free trade deal ever come to fruition? What do you think?

Piling rocks along the Gull.

A land of opportunity

by Bill Scott, M.P.

Canada is about opportunity. That is why our people settled in this great land. Our government has worked hard to rekindle the spirit of opportunity for all Canadians.

As we enter the fourth year of our mandate, we maintain our commitment to bringing federal finances under control. This is not an easy job and certainly not a popular one when people are demanding more money for their pet programs or projects. But is a necessary and vital job. We are achieving results, and those results are crucial to the future of Canada. The federal deficit is down to $29.3 billion this year from $38.3 billion in 1984 - 85. Our projections show continuing decline. As the deficit declines, we are bringing down interest rates because the federal government has reduced its need to compete for borrowed money with industry and other levels of government. By getting its financial house in order, the government is also increasing its ability to respond to the real needs of Canadians. As you know, when you are already mortgaged to the hilt, it is hard to find new money for emergencies.

Almost 1,000 jobs have been created every day since the government took office - 865,000 new jobs and a decline in the unemployment rate from 11.7% to 9.1%. Interest rates have fallen by over 3 percentage points. The rate on a five year mortgage has fallen 3

Looking at Ontario forests

Recently in this column, I called attention to the thoughtless and wasteful destruction of the world's rainforests. Now let's look at the state of Ontario forests. Forestry is of major economic importance in Ontario, employing about 160,000 people and directly and indirectly contributing over $600,000,000 in government revenue annually.

According to Ian Bird, president of the Ontario Forest Industries Association, 100,000 hectares of timber are cut annually.

Lumbering on this scale has had a profound impact environmentally on the forests and raised problems of continued wood supply. Usually the primary concern of logging companies has been immediate economic return rather than long-term management of the forests. In 1985, for instance, only about 52,000 hectares were reforested. These figures are also from the O.F.I.A.

When logging was done manually in the winter using teams of horses to haul logs, cutting was by necessity more selective, leaving shelter areas and seed sources behind, as well as a good deal of waste wood in the form of tops and limbs which did decay to enrich the forest floor. With the introduction of the chain-remove great swathes from the forest like a combine harvesting grain. For hauling such huge quantities of wood the mechanized skidder replaced the teams of horses and graded logging

Federation of Ontario Naturalists saw after the Second World War, the volume of wood a man could cut in a single day increased dramatically. Later, large tree-harvesters enabled companies to roads replaced the waterways.

Such mechanical improvements led to less restrained cutting; in fact, the term "timber mining" has been used to describe the way certain areas were treated. Clearcutting became much more common. Such areas of the forest became in effect, farms for a single species, desirable for pulpwood, and are treated with herbicides to keep down undesirable hardwoods and sprayed with insecticides for insect infestation, inevitable in such large stands of a single species.

The spruce budworm infestation in New Brunswick illustrates the danger

- the law of gravity, enacted in Canada in the early 1800s, has a great deal to do with the reconciliation of this problem. The slice of bread, having a coating of butter (peanut butter, jam - any or all of these substances) is, by nature, heavier on that side. The application of the gravitational principle calls for greater force to be exerted on the heavier side, resulting in that face meeting the floor first. It is worth noting that prior to the enactment of the law of gravity, the slice would likely have "fallen" to the ceiling, coming to rest on its edge.

Therefore, the act of the transcendence cannot in fact be attributed to a conscious action related to the fact that the existing motorway does indeed have two sides and the fowl in question finds itself on one of those sides. - it has been determined that the kitchen is the scene of more household accidents than any other room in the house, except for the bathroom, (and some wags might also argue, the bedroom). That being the case, one might wish to limit the number of chefs involved in the preparation of any dish, including soup.

Re: Kawartha District Ostomy Association.

This is an update on our association. We have been active now for two years. Our meetings are held on the first Tuesday evening of the month at the Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay. The next meeting is October 6 at 7:30 p.m. at R.M.H. Boardroom. We have some very exciting news. The Ministry of Health has announced that all ostomates will have 75% of the cost of Ostomy Supplies and Appliances paid for under the Assistive Devices Program commencing September 15, 1987.

We will explain at that meeting how to access this program; so we would like to see any person who has had an ostomy for any reason to come out and support our Association.

Our meetings try to give people a blend of ostomy information and support and also interesting talks from local community agencies.

We make visits and give support and encouragement to any ostomate who requests this service. This is one of our main goals, to assist ostomates to accept their way of life and know there is someone who cares and is there to give them support.

We would welcome any new members to help us achieve our goal and also to visit new ostomates who need a friend who understands.

Please come and make it the largest attendance yet.

by Susan Beers

Very happy birthday wishes and many, many happy returns were the order of the day Saturday, September 26 for Mrs. Mary Oliver, formerly of Halls Lake and now a resident of Hyland Crest in Minden, where we spoke with her Wednesday.

Mrs. Oliver was born in Huddersfield in Yorkshire, England in 1889 and came to Canada as a bride after The Great War of 1914-18.

Her husband, the late Arthur Robert Oliver had been a neighbour of her family's, his father was from London and his mother from Wales and the Oliver family had moved to Huddersfield from Wales.

The young Mary had known the family but when, in 1907, the Olivers again moved, this time to Canada, she never thought she'd see any of them again.

However, fate and the Kaiser conspired against this and young Arthur Oliver returned to England to serve his country in the war. His mother had bade him pay a visit to their old neighbours and, in this way, he and Mary met again and fell in love. "It was as though I'd been waiting for him," Mrs. Oliver said. "He was only 13 or so when he left and I had no idea of what he was like or even if he was still single." Arthur had been gassed during his war service and the doctors told him he should find outdoor employment to help his condition.

He and Mary were married in England and after spending their honeymoon in Wales, made the decision to return to Canada where Arthur's father was ready to give up their farm on Halls Lake.

Mary knew nothing of farming but says she got lots of help from Arthur's family and from neighbours.

She says the trip over was quite something. "We came over in 1919 on the troopship 'Grampian'. I was on the ladies' side of the ship and Arthur with the other troops in their section."

They arrived in Quebec in May 1919 and travelled by train to Toronto. "I remember when we arrived, there were groups from various denominations, United, Presbyterian, Salvation Army, waiting to take us to shelter for the night."

Mary and Arthur chose to go with the Salvation Army and were well looked after.

The next day, Arthur's sister joined them and all three headed out on the journey to Halls Lake. "We travelled by train to Lindsay where we changed trains and arrived in Gelert. We then travelled to Minden by Democrat, the one that brought the mail, and we had lunch at the Dominion Hotel."

Mary says, "I'll never forget that Kinmount Road, it was like a snake!"

Later that evening, they were taken by car, one of only eight or nine that had been seen in Halls Lake.

The conditions on the farm would seem rather primitive to us, and, in fact, seemed that way to Mary, but, she says, the love and support she received from Arthur and his family "saved my life!"

She was very happy in her new life and as time passed their happiness was added to

by the addition of twins, a boy and a girl, Raymond and Rosamond.

When the Olivers first lived in Halls Lake there were no cottages on the lake at all, and, of course no Highway 35.

"I remember very well the road before the highway. We had to go up and over what are now rockcuts when we came to Minden to trade," said Mrs. Oliver. "We travelled by horse and buggy and it was a long haul to Minden."

However, as time passed, things began to look up and Mr. Oliver served not only as Reeve of Stanhope Township but as Warden of the County.

Mrs. Oliver remained at their home on Halls Lake after the death of her husband at age 63. "I think people live longer now," said Mrs. Oliver, "it might be something to do with the environment or the fact people are better looked after now."

Seven years ago, Mrs. Oliver felt she could no longer take care of herself or her home and came to live at Hyland Crest.

She appears very happy and says she is very well looked after. Her room is very comfortable and very homey with family photographs and even photographs of the Royal Family and, of course, her little Union Jack on the wall.

"I could chat for a lot longer, but I feel that's enough for now," she laughed.

"I've gone home every year for my birthday and I'll be there again on Saturday."

A very special day for a very special lady - many happy returns Mrs. Oliver, it was a pleasure to chat with you, the "youngest" 98 year old we know.

Deputy minister of Education, Dr. Bernard Shapiro watches the goings-on in the classroom of Mrs. Bernie Davis at Archie Stouffer Elementary School Tuesday. The visit was one of a series Shapiro has been making since accepting his position.

Looks inside the classroom

Ontario's Deputy Minister of Education, Dr. Bernard Shapiro, visited a number of schools in the county and addressed the members of the Haliburton County School Board last Tuesday. The visit to the county was one of a series of the Deputy Minister has been making since being appointed to the post less than two years ago.

Dr. Shapiro told the trustees Tuesday afternoon that by visiting various areas of the province and sitting in one classes, he has been able to gain a better understanding of the problems, strengths and weaknesses of the Ontario educational system. The visit seemed to be appreciated by teachers, administrators and members of the board. A number of comments were heard that it was refreshing to see an administrator from the ministry taking such a direct interest in the education process.

During the morning, Dr. Shapiro was visitor in a number of classrooms at the Archie Stouffer Elementary School in Minden. In the afternoon, he was at Haliburton Highlands School. He took part in a question and answer session held in conjunction with the Man and Society course being taught at HHSS.

Following the visits to the schools, Shapiro was the guest of the board at an informal reception. He then addressed the group, and identified three initiatives which the Ministry of Education will be undertaking in the near future.

In response to the MacDonald Commission Report, which has been looking into the methods of funding education in the province, Dr. Shapiro told the trustees an inter-ministry group is examining the funding programs. He suggested the present system of tax collection for education purposes was not likely to survive this current investigation. However, he also noted that any change in the method of funding for education, will inevitably mean that some groups will be paying more while others will pay less. He described the decision facing the people who must decide how the funding will be derived as a difficult problem.

He told the trustees, the ministry is examining the high rate of drop-outs at the high school level. He said that close to 35% of all students entering the province's secondary school system do not complete school. Those who leave early experience difficulty in finding employment. "It is a waste of human resources," he told the trustees.

He said the ministry had undertaken a series of studies last year and he expected the results to be made public soon, followed by programs to remedy the situation. He said he would like to see the drop-out rate reduced to 25%.

The third major matter under consideration by the ministry is the discrepancy between the support provided by the province for elementary and secondary schools. He said the fact that the senior level schools receive greater assistance, seems to be a matter of misplaced priorities. He suggested that spending more on elementary level education could solve problems that are being treated in a remedial fashion at the secondary school level. He also suggested that increased spending at the elementary level could help reduce the drop-out rate being experienced at the secondary level of education.

Following his formal presentation to the trustees, Dr. Shapiro answered questions. Among the points raised were:

- the Ministry of Education is not, at the moment, developing a policy regarding junior kindergarten

While most Haliburton County residents are crying for water, the construction crew at this site adjacent to the Schnitzel House on Highway 35 got more than they wanted. This is the site of a future motel.

Local considered first

The Haliburton County Board of Education has decided to evaluate the abilities of the one employee within the local system qualified to fill the new position of superintendent of education, before advertising for the post provincially. The decision to attempt to fill the post from within the system was taken at the September 22 meeting of the board.

The decision followed a lengthy discussion at which the merits of promoting staff and creating a wide-open competition were discussed.

The board had agreed, following a closed meeting in August and after a split recorded vote, to create the new executive position. However the method of filling the post was left to the September meeting.

In agreeing to consider filling the post through an internal search, the members of the board also stressed they were not closing the door on the possibility of advertising on a provincial basis. Those who favoured the internal search method said that if the banks of the Weser River. It has a population of about 150,000 people and lies within Minden County. The county itself has a population of about 280,000 people. The area is well known for the beautiful windmills, says Schutte. He says there are 36 in the county and each is unique.

One of the things Schutte says his group found surprising is the amount of open space around here. He says his county is about half the size of Haliburton County and has about 20 times the population.

The largest industry in Minden, Germany, is the production of coffee processing equipment. Schutte says Melitta is the biggest company there, producing coffee makers, filters and grinders. Other industries include machine making and railway construction.

While Thursday's reception was mainly a social event, it also provided an opportunity for the exchange of gifts. Haliburton County Warden Murray Fearrey was given a Minden County banner on behalf of Oberkreisdirektor Dr. Rolf Momburg. Deputy Reeve Bern Berry accepted a book of photographs of Minden City from the Burgermeister. In exchange, Berry presented the group with a Minden Township flag.

Misfits at the top

by John Fountain

To bring us up to date we'll start off with the Wednesday Afternoon Mixed League. We find the Misfits in first place with 10 points, followed by a second place tie with the Swingers and Goof Balls at a respectable 8 points. Next we have another tie at 5 points each with the Pack Setters and the Road Runners, while the Goodtimers are doing just that and have 4 points. As far as the averages go we have Linda Morrison in the lead with a 195, followed closely by George Hamilton with 177 and a third place tie between Harry Henderson and Sue Titus with a 176. The high singles are Linda Morrison with a 225 and Harry Henderson with a 220, whereas the high triples are Linda Morrison with a 585, and Vern Boles with a 559.

Next we have the Men's Commercial League with Modern Electric at 32 points followed extremely close by Harding Metals at 31 points. Carnarvon Lanes has 21 points, Payne Real Estate 16 points, and a two way tie for last with 13 points to both West Guilford and Ingoldsby. Dan Harding is in the lead with a 228 average followed closely by Ron Robinson Jr. at 226 and Bill Korz at 225. In contrast John Pentney took high single and high triple with a 301 and 724 respectively, followed by "Mad Dan" with 269 single and 721 triple.

Alas because of a bowler shortage on the Thursday Night Vankoughnet we only have 5 teams this year, but they do make up for it with their imaginative names. We have a three way tie for first place between Westside Warriors, Dave's, and John's all at 7 points; while at the other end of the scale Bruce's and Fred's are tied at 0. It seems that Joan Pritchard is going all out with the high average, single, and triple of 191, 236 and 575 respectively. What Joan is doing for the ladies it seems Brian Moore is doing for the men with high average, single and triple of 237, 282 and 711 respectively.

Notice to all League Secretaries. Please leave all news to be published in the paper in the big blue binder on the counter at the Bowling Alley.

Until next time: See you at the Lanes.

Seniors, juniors, lock horns at LCVI

The senior and junior soccer teams at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School meet up with some strong opposition when they faced LCVI last week, but the locals were equally as fierce, battling to a tie in both games.

The seniors put in a good performance against the well disciplined LCVI team and came away with a 1-1 tie.

Once again the midfield of Darryl Goodall, Trini Elias, Mark Sorenson and Terry Smith put in a strong showing. Cecil Smith scored the lone Haliburton goal.

The junior Redmen exploded for three goals against the strong LCVI defence. Unfortunately, the opponents also penetrated to force the three-all draw.

Darren Warburton scored two for the juniors, while Darin Parish added a single marker.

Fenelon Falls teams will visit Haliburton next Thursday. The starting time of the senior game is at 2 p.m.

Newmarket Precast to be shopping plaza

A new mini shopping mall is in store for Minden once renovations to the former Newmarket Precast building on Highway 35 are completed. Anson, Hindon and Minden council learned at its meeting last Wednesday.

Council gave approval in principle to the plans laid out by Leroy Lichty, who is in the process of building the building.

Lichty told council that he plans to renovate the existing building with the aim of renting the space for retail stores. In addition, he is planning to rent out the quonset building on the property for an auto body shop.

Although council does not need a site plan in order to approve Lichty's immediate plans, one would be necessary for any future expansions of the building. Lichty told council that he does plan to expand both buildings in the future. He said he may want to add approximately 160 square feet to the steel frame building, possibly within a year. He said he may also expand the main building by about 300 square feet in the future.

Reeve Sinc Nesbitt recommended that any delays could be avoided if a site plan was prepared well in advance. He also suggested that all the planned expansions be included in the initial site plan even though parts of the expansion may not take place for a number of years.

He said this would eliminate the need for preparing a second site plan.

Lichty said his plans will make the building much more attractive than the present structure. Nesbitt said it will be nice to have that corner cleaned up, and he encouraged this sort of growth in the township.

Howe wins Autumn Open

Bill Howe led a field of over 40 golfers to claim the low gross championship in the Seventh annual Times Autumn Open Golf Tournament held September 20 at the Haliburton Highlands Golf Club. He completed the 18 hole tournament with an impressive score of 72.

Leigh Bull carded the second low gross of the afternoon with a round of 73. He was followed by Ken Rosenberg with a 74, Bob Nichol at 75 and Frank Powers with a 76. Sherry Mullholland was the low gross leader in the ladies division.

Don Blakey of Minden led in the low net competition. The Calloway system was used to deter-

Kickers tie, lose

The soccer Redmen opened the season against I.E. Weldon of Lindsay on Thursday, September 18 in Haliburton.

The Junior team played first, earning a 1-1 tie. The goal was scored by Darren Warburton, assisted by Darnell Francis and Darryl Winder. The entire junior team played well, especially the midfielders; Winder, Jason Billings and Paddy Taylor.

The senior soccer team shut out a strong Weldon side, 2-0. Haliburton goals went to Gord Wood on a penalty kick in the first half, and to Cecil Smith in the second half. Again, the seniors played aggressively in all positions, but especially in midfield, led by Darryl Goodall, Trini Elias and Rob Thibadeau.

Next games are scheduled for Wednesday, September 23 at 2:00 in Haliburton.

mine low net placings. Second low net went to Buster Anderson followed by Tony Scheffee, Terry Lloyd and Ron Robinson.

Others to visit the amply filled prize table, in the order of their finish, included: Dave Stevens, Paul Marlin, Don Pasquino, Bernie Upton, Steve Bishop, Don Curry, Wayne Ellison, Cliff Stewart, Mac Gadway, Norm Barry, Nick Pawluch, Kevin Finch, Chris Truil, Dave Schellenberg, Larry Rosenberg, Hugh Nicholl and Ken Hamilton.

Winner of the closest to the hole competition was Ron Reesor.

Following the afternoon of golf on the rolling hills of the Haliburton Highlands course, the participants enjoyed a hot meal at The Birch Point Lodge on Lake Kashagawigamog. In addition to the prizes purchased for the day, donations were received from Canada Dry, Schwandt Lumber and Seagrams.

interim measure. He said it was his understanding the job would be tendered out.

Clark says the ministry is acting on the township's desire to end the service. Because the tendering process is not likely to be completed until some time in March, he said it was necessary to find a party to take over in the meantime.

This move comes just a few weeks before the dispatch service for the county ambulance is centralized in Lindsay.

Trent Severn report

On September 14, the reserve lakes in Haliburton and northern Peterborough Counties averaged 36.4°C, a drop of about 1.2°C from September 8.

This small drop represented the first sign of reduced losses from these lakes in two months. Some rain had been reaching the highlands area, but the greater cause may be the declining lake temperatures which result in less evaporation. In 1977 these lakes were at 41°C by this date while in 1958 they were at 48°C.

Kawartha Lakes levels are slightly lower than their respective navigation maxima, and with the wetter conditions forecast through the weeked (September 19, 20) they are likely to hold steady.

Drawdown for Lake Trout spawning is well underway at Kushog, Big Bob and Little Bob lakes and dry conditions will probably make this quite easy to accomplish by September 30.

Wetter years result in much more difficulty to have them down before the egg deposition begins. Other Trent-Severn lakes are drawn down usually immediately after the Thanksgiving weekend, but this year there may be very little to run off.

never uses a hatpin when a hand grenade will do.

Which makes a recent Fotheringham newspaper column all the more mystifying. In it, Fotheringham takes Canadians to task for being too cynical about America. He uses Oliver North to prove his point. Fotheringham argues that the rest of the world thinks that Ollie's pulled a fast one, - that by clever manipulation of the TV cameras and a little sotto voce humming of America The Beautiful this lying, cheating leatherneck with the moist brown eyes has made himself so popular, authorities "wouldn't dare" send him to prison.

Not so, says Fotheringham. Ollie is going to do time. Why? "Because he broke the law" writes Fotheringham, "and people who break the law go to jail."

"That's what makes America great" types the Foth, warming to his theme. "They lay everything out, expose all the dirty laundry in public and they don't care who watches, however embarrassing it may be."

We are talking about the same America in which the 37th president of which, Richard Nixon, handed off the Oval Office ball to the 38th President, Gerald Ford - on condition of immunity from prosecution?

We are talking about the same America in which, a scuzzy New York landlord by the name of Steven Roth hired hit men to slash fashion model Marla Hanson's face (more than 100 stitches) because she wouldn't go out with him - then pleaded insanity based on the traumatic effects of growing up short?

We are talking about the same America in which, last week prison officials pondered whether it would be okay to put Richard Speck back on the streets soon?

You remember Richard Speck. He's the beast who, back in 1966 broke into a Chicago townhouse, tied up eight student nurses, then stabbed them to death one at a time during the course of several hours, sexually assaulting at least one of them.

Speck was sentenced to terms of from 50 to 150 years for each of his eight victims. Naively, I took that to mean that Speck received a sentence of between 400 and 1,200 years - meaning that he shouldn't be eligible for parole until nearly four centuries have elapsed.

Which I figure is just about right.

But not only is Speck up for parole, this marks the sixth time Speck has been up for parole since he went behind bars.

The families of Speck's victims are understandably outraged and distressed that any system of justice, never mind the much-vaunted American one, could possibly consider turning a monster like Speck loose. They appealed en masse to the Illinois Prisoner Review Board to keep him locked up. The chairman assured them that the Review Board would "look very hard at this case."

Gee, that's comforting. It may even mean that they'll keep Speck in jail.

At least until his next parole hearing.

I don't want to draw too close a parallel between the transgressions of Richard Speck and those of Oliver North - although a Nicaraguan peasant might.

I'm willing to concede that Fotheringham may be right - that Oliver North will have to swap his decoration-laden lieutenant-colonel's uniform for a set of prison greys.

But five'll get you ten that if North does go up the river, it won't be to Folsom or San Quentin or Attica. It'll be to one of those country club resorts that John Mitchell, Haldeman, Erlichman and the other Watergate conspirators were sequestered to receive what was laughably called their punishment.

And how long will North spend in the it-is-to-laugh slammer? Fotheringham isn't predicting. Personally, I'd say it's anybody's guess who'll be back on the street first - Ollie or Richard Speck.

I mean ... that's what makes America great, right?

and folly of such farming. After 30 years of spraying, the government has failed to bring the spruce budworm under control. Entomologists recognize the budworm as endemic to eastern Canadian forests, with cyclic rises in population. It was never a major problem until clear cutting practices changed the character of the forests. Balsam fir, the favoured food of the budworm and a prolific and fast-growing species, became much more common in the forest. Natural control over the pest could have been achieved long ago by the introduction of uneven-aged stands of budworm resistant species like pine and black spruce. Recently, New Brunswick has begun such a program, but trees grow slowly and it will take a long time for the change to show results. Meanwhile spraying continues.

Many of us view trees as part of the beauty of the land, providers of moisture and oxygen, of habitat for wildlife and, finally, of nutrients returned to the forest floor. Those who exercise power in the forest industry regard forests as fibre or raw material. Pine trees 150 years or older are described by lumbermen as "overmature" or "decadent" and as "having gone beyond their allotted time". Clearly their time is allotted according to the financial needs of the company.

What can we do to change this attitude to our forests? For the first time in Ontario, the public (owners of all forest resources on Crown land) will finally have the opportunity to examine the whole question of forest management. The Ministry of Natural Resources has been preparing the Class Environmental Assessment for Timber Management on Crown Lands in Ontario. This document has bounced back and forth between MNR, one of whose mandate is forest management, and the Ministry of the Environment, who administer the Environmental Assessment Act. Finally, after 11 years the document is ready to be scrutinized by the Environmental Assessment Board. Public hearings begin early in 1988. During the time the document was being prepared, the MNR granted the industry exemptions from virtually any environmental examinations. Future columns will give more information about the process. In the meantime, I would like to hear your comments about forestry in your part of Ontario. Direct any comments to Marion Strebig, Federation of Ontario Naturalists, 355 Lesmill Road, Don Mills, M3B 2W8.

Shapiro responds to board

classes. He noted that many school boards are introducing this program, however, for the moment, the classes for pre-kindergarten children will remain an option of the local boards.

- the Deputy Minister was asked to react to a statement made by Ontario Premier David Peterson during the recent election campaign. He said at the time that junior level classes in elementary schools should be limited to 20 pupils. Dr. Shapiro noted that the comment was made in the heat of an election campaign, but said the ministry intends to react to the Premier's comments. He suggested that a flexible response would be needed, pointing out that it would be ridiculous to expect a new class to be started, every time a class reaches 21 students. He said the introduction of teacher's aides would help to ease the burden. The Deputy Minister noted implementing a policy which reflected the 20 pupil limit, could have extensive implications for the capital expenditures on education.

- commenting on the inequities in provincial support for school boards, like Haliburton County's, with a low student population and high assessment, Dr. Shapiro said it was not an issue that was unique to this area. He said the committee looking into education funding in the province could provide recommendations in this area.

- one member of the board noted that suggestions to reduce the number of trustees on the local board through a reapportionment based on population rather than assessment could leave some rural residents feeling they do not have a voice on the board.

- Dr. Shapiro told the trustees that the ministry is considering the problems created by streaming students into certain courses at the start of secondary school. He noted the present system has resulted in many students not taking the general level courses. Choosing the advance level allows students to move to any other stream if they find the courses too difficult. However, that choice is not available to students taking general level courses. He said the ministry is faced with two possibilities in this matter, delay the streaming of students until grade 11, or make the general courses more attractive to students and parents.

- responding to an inquiry regarding the lack of space in some schools, the Deputy Minister noted certain areas of the province are experiencing a tremendous growth in the number of students, while other areas see a decline. He said the ministry had tripled its capital expenditure budget in the past two years and is still hard pressed to meet the needs of school boards. He said money has been redirected from major maintenance budgets leaving the present provincial school stock in jeopardy. He said a capital funding procedure paper is being developed at the ministry.

- Dr. Shapiro recommended that the board should consider implementing an evaluation process for all of its employees, from the director of education down. He said that while many people see evaluation as a threat, it should in fact be viewed as a chance to improve and grow. The major thrust of any evaluation process should be to encourage better work from an individual.

In closing Dr. Shapiro expressed his appreciation for the warm welcome given by the board and staff in the schools he visited.

Library week, October 19 - 25

"Your Card is the Key" is the theme for 1987 Ontario Public Library Week being held across the province during the week of October 19 - 25 of this year. In libraries both big and small there are events and functions scheduled that will appeal to everyone no matter how young or old.

Haliburton County Public Library and its nine branches are not to be excluded from the festivities.

In making the announcement of the celebration, Joel Levis, County Librarian stressed that "while every week is library week to us, this is a time to make an extra special effort in bringing the library and its potential to the attention of everyone."

While local branches have their own plans supported by the county library, there are two county-wide events that are in the final stages of planning.

"Both events are very appropriate," stated Levis, "because they emphasize the true worth and value of the library in our society. They say that you don't appreciate something until it is gone, and when one considers that the bulk of mankind has no free access to books or reading or if they do, can't afford to pay the price or benefit from the freedom of expression that we do, then perhaps we can understand how valuable a resource the library is to everyone. As an investment in the future of society, the actual cost may be small but the development and achievement of human potential is great."

The first project involves a small number of active library supporters who have been identified by local personnel. They have been asked to identify the book that they have read that influenced them the most and how it affected them. Even now, replies are being received in the county library headquarters and they will be presented as part of the library week functions during the week itself. Please let the county librarian know if you wish to participate but have not yet been approached.

The other event is a contest that requires the participant to briefly explain what their library card means to them. There is to be one big prize per branch and one cross-county prize as selected by an impartial jury whose decision will be final. The only requirement to participate is to have a library card from one of the nine branches of the library system and all that you have to do is register. There is no charge and forms will be in place in the early weeks of October. Watch for it.

Ontario Public Library Week is special. Visit your local branch of the Haliburton County Public Library and see for yourself!

Bird atlas - a volunteer effort

At the end of September, naturalists and bird lovers across Ontario will celebrate the work of many thousands of volunteers with the publication of a remarkable book, the Atlas of the Breeding Birds of Ontario.

The atlas, the first of its kind in North America, is the culmination of five years of work by nearly 2,000 people, mostly volunteers, who put in a total of 180,000 hours of fieldwork gathering information about the status of birds nesting in the province. The handsome, coffee-table style book, profusely illustrated with drawings and maps, promises to appeal to casual readers, dedicated bird lovers and scientists alike.

The volume describes the nearly 300 species of birds that breed in Ontario, devoting a page of text and a distribution map to each of the birds. The maps, produced by the latest laser scanner technology, are attractively presented in two colours for easy interpretation.

The atlas, sponsored by the Federation of Ontario Naturalists and the Long Point Bird Observatory, was supported financially by the federal and provincial governments, and several private organizations.

Under the supervision of trained naturalists, who served as coordinators, volunteers were assigned one or more blocks of land to scout for breeding birds during the appropriate season. In southern Ontario, where the segments of land surveyed measured 10 by 10 kilometres, volunteers spent a minimum of 16 hours in each location. In the north, blocks were 100 by 100 kilometres.

Avoid credit fraud

The Ontario Provincial Police is warning all credit card holders not to reveal their card numbers to telephone solicitors offering exotic vacations at bargain prices.

Police forces across Ontario have recently been flooded with complaints from people who have received telephone pitches from Houston, Texas based travel organizations, some of which are currently being investigated by American authorities.

The caller, claiming to represent one of numerous travel firms, begins the pitch by saying you have been selected, because you are a preferred bank customer with a sound credit rating, to take a trip anywhere in the world for as little as $369.00 (U.S.). All you have to do is give him your credit card number and wait for a vacation package to arrive in the mail.

The caller will deceptively recite the first three digits of your credit card number and you confirm it with the remaining ten digits. Some people fall for this ploy not realizing the first three numbers are merely a regional code contained on all cards issued in your area, and the caller really has no knowledge of your credit rating.

What the card holder doesn't realize until funds have been debited from the account, is the package sent by mail contains a "Purchase Acknowledgment Agreement" stating details that were not mentioned over the telephone.

In the event you wish to travel with someone, the "Agreement" states that a second flight ticket will cost considerably more, must be booked within 18 months and that your money is non-refundable.

A legitimate travel firm will mail all necessary travel details free of charge without demanding your credit card number. If the offer seems too good to be true, it probably is.

In the area of social services, we have acted decisively and with true concern for Canadian families. Major improvements have been made to the Canada Pension Plan. A new Child Care policy will be announced this fall. We have enriched the Child Tax Credit for low income families.

As impressive as this is, we don't believe it is good enough. We will keep trying to do better, to manage the economy so that the private sector will keep generating jobs.

Tax reform will provide a major spur for the economy.

The government's tax reform package will lower the tax rate for the vast majority of Canadians and put more money in their pockets to spend on goods and services. Nine out of ten seniors will pay less tax and 250,000 additional seniors will pay no tax at all.

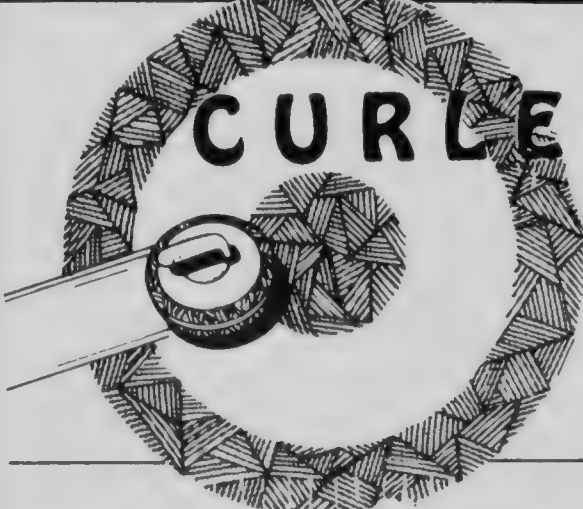

Our decision to enter free trade talks with our largest trading partner is another example of far-sighted leadership. According to the latest study by the Economic Council of Canada, a freer trade policy will create as many as 350,000 jobs over seven years. We knew there would be the usual round of complaints from those who believe that Canada cannot compete and we knew some industries would have to work hard to adjust. But the bottom line was to secure access for Canadian industry to the largest market in the world. We believe these negotiations are a vital step toward ensuring our economic well-being.

We also knew the naysayers would be critical of the changes to the Patent Act regarding pharmaceuticals. But we designed legislation to protect consumers by monitoring price increases and received from industry investment pledges in research and development totalling $1.4 billion which will create thousands of high-tech jobs. Our young scientists are worth the effort taken to generate world-class pharmaceuticals research in Canada.

We have developed an unprecedented climate for small business to grow and prosper and the small businesspersons of Canada have responded by creating most of this nation's new jobs. We have developed special economic programs for regions of Canada. One of these is the Northern Ontario Economic Development Program which has been allocated $55 million.

Two new shows at Rails' End

by Ilene J. Freer

On September 26, two new shows opened at the Rails' End Gallery.

"Spinning A Dream" features the work of six women who have just completed the final semester of the Ontario Handweavers and Spinners Certificate Program.

For the past six years, Master Spinners Lee Ann Bryant, Trish Coleman, Ann Craven, Margaret D'Esterre and Dixie Dittburner have spent their summers in Haliburton at Sir Sandford Fleming College learning the craft of spinning. For these women, spinning is far more than just the creation of yarn.

They explain that, "spinning is a total sensory experience: the whirr of the wheel, the scent of the fibres and dyes, the colours and textures of one continuous thread." "Spinning A Dream" celebrates their love for spinning.

In the Main Gallery, "Cultural Crossings" explores, in woven form, the spiritual and artistic world of Wendy E. Bateman. Inspired by the dynamic cultural diversity of the North American Native Peoples, Wendy has used their traditional colours and techniques for contemporary weaving. In addition, Wendy offers her interpretation and celebration of native culture by weaving, among other things, a life-sized teepee and a panel series depicting several of the Peterborough petroglyphs.

To achieve a realistic woven rendering of the petroglyphs, Wendy studied the carvings on-site and at the Geology Department of the Royal Ontario Museum in Toronto. To help understand their inherent symbolism, Wendy has provided poetic descriptions for each carving.

"Spinning A Dream" and "Cultural Crossings" opened Saturday, September 26. On October 3 and 4, Wendy will be leading a Share Workshop. This is a light-hearted approach to using your whole body in the creation of a usable fibre. To register, please call the Gallery at 457-2330.

Technical missionary to be at HAVE meeting

David Eadie, a technical missionary involved with well drilling in Central India, will be the guest speaker at the HAVE (Help A Village Effort) annual meeting October 3.

The meeting, which starts at 8 p.m. at Sir Sandford Fleming College in Haliburton Village, will provide some insights into the HAVE Committee's activities and where donations are going.

Eadie has served as a technical missionary with the United Church of Canada in co-operation with Catholic and Protestant missions, Society of Friends, Oxfam, and the Government of India. He has been on special U.N. assignments in Burma, Indonesia and New Guinea.

Eadie was particularly involved in well drilling in India. As a result of his work, UNICEF has been promoting well drilling around the world.

Hiring policy

their evaluation proves to be inconclusive, the board could go through the province-wide advertising, at which time the qualified board employee could re-apply.

Points raised in favour of the local search included the fact that the recent CEDDS study had recommended that the board promote from within its ranks. It was noted that if trustees enter into a province-wide competition having already decided to favour the present employee, it would be a waste of taxpayers money and create a delay in having the superintendent in place.

The province-wide advertising and competition was suggested to give the trustees a yard-stick by which to judge the suitability of all candidates. The competition would also provide the successful candidate with the knowledge that the post had been "earned" by having gone through the process.

The entire board will be involved in the evaluation of the present employee, using criteria prepared by the director of education, Stuart Baker. The board hopes to complete the selection process by the end of the year.

The only member of the staff qualified for the post is Dale Robinson, who has served as principal of the high school and who is currently filling a temporary post as curriculum coordinator.

The September meeting of Minden Women's Institute, was at the Library Cultural Centre with Past President Mrs. A. Kernohan in charge. After the usual opening and reports collections were taken for Pennies for Friendship and Card Fund. Mrs. W. Moore reported sending 46 cards since June meeting.

Mrs. Lyman Cox gave report of the Victoria Eat Luncheon - Fashion Show and Tea at Fenelon Falls on September 12th. The roll call had all 18 members placing names of their street or road of village on a map. Mrs. W. Moore then read an amusing incident.

The Resolutions were read and voted upon and Mrs. Lyman Cox will go as delegate to Area Convention at the Royal York, Toronto, November 3 and 4.

Mrs. Loyne Cox, convenor, then introduced Elgin Stouffer who gave us an enlightening and very interesting talk on his stay in Peru and we saw pictures he had taken while there. After the talk he answered our questions and kept us interested. A cup of tea and snacks brought the meeting to a close.

Next meeting will be at the same location October 21st at 2 p.m. with all ladies welcome.

Branch 129 news

submitted by Gerald Irish

On Sunday, September 13, 77 representatives from 12 Legion branches in Zone F4, met in Cannington at Branch 186 for their annual fall convention. Also in attendance were District F Commander Comrade Ken Jeffries, Deputy District F Commander John Ryan, Zone F4 Ladies Auxiliary Commander Gwen Cox, Zone Commanders from F3 and F5, and many District Officers.

Chairman Lloyd Tavener called the meeting to order and after Zone F4 Commander Comrade Stan Moore conducted the opening ceremonies, the assemblage got down to the business of the day.

The Presidents of the 12 branches or their representatives gave very favourable reports on their branches and their community involvement. Most branches were able to report increased memberships and high morale among their members.

Zone Officers gave their reports. It was good to hear these people are actively involved and were prepared with good information in their reports.

F4 Zone Commander

Comrade Stan Moore reported on his involvement and busy schedule since being elected to his office.

District Commander Comrade Ken Jeffries was called on to speak to the Legion members present. Ken told us of a drive being started to collect old, no longer used, or broken crutches. These will be collected by the Haliburton Branch 129 and stored there until delivery is to be made. The crutches will be sent to very needy people in Africa. If you or anyone in your community have any crutches to donate, leave them at your Legion branch and Zone PR Officer, Gerald Irish, will pick them up at Zone seminars or meetings, etc.

Has your branch received the insurance questionnaire from Provincial Command? If you have, please complete and return it. It is vital that they have this information so a try can be made to coordinate efforts re. insurance cost reductions to benefit every branch.

Provincial Command has also requested, for the sake of uniformity, that name badges should be worn on the right side of your blazer.

It was with regret that we learned from Zone Commander Stan Moore of the resignation of Zone F4 Sports Officer Albert Crego. Albert has not been feeling well lately and decided it was time to turn over his zone tasks to someone else. While serving as Zone Sports Officer, Albert did a magnificent job and will be greatly missed at meetings.

Here are some dates to remember:

October 3 ... Veterans' Parade in Bobcaygeon at 7:30 p.m.

October 5 ... Zone F4 Sports Officers Meeting in Coboconk at 7:30 p.m.

Support group formed

by K. Hodgson-McMahon

The Alzheimer Support Group is a newly formed organization for the care givers of Alzheimer patients. The goal is to offer support and help in the task of caring for a family member who has this disease.

August 27, 1987 a regular monthly meeting was held at St. Anthony's Roman Catholic Church Hall, Haliburton and twenty persons were in attendance. A need came out of this meeting for helpers who will attend the meetings and get to know the families and during the month between meetings to be a special friend to the family. The care givers need to have a person they can call who they have built a trust and rapport with to help when they are feeling overburdened.

If you have the time and would like to help with this special task - please call Katherine Hodgson-McMahon at 457-2171 (10 a.m. to 4 p.m.) or 457-3328 (4 p.m. to 10 p.m.)

Next meeting: September 24, 1987 at 12 noon and a speaker, Margaret Hawkins, VON Day Centre in Peterborough will be addressing the issues facing care givers and types of help. Everyone with an interest is welcome to attend.

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

Lower back pain management

Dr. Stephen Dawson is a Medical practitioner serving the Minden community who writes a weekly column on health matters for The Times.

This week's article is for Reverend John Burgess who was inquiring about management of lower back pain. This is a very common affliction that many people suffer from and there are a number of misconceptions and unwarranted fears about this problem. Almost every day patients will inform us that they've been told they have a "slipped disc" and ask us to put it back in place. In actual fact there is no such thing as a slipped disc. Instead, it bulges. If you have ever changed a tap washer, you would have noticed that when you fasten it down, the washer bulges slightly. Similarly, this can happen to a disc, and when the bulge is enough to press on a nerve the condition is referred to as a slipped disc which is a term both incorrect and frightening.

Another notion that some people have is that when they bend over and hear a 'crack' that a joint or disc has become displaced but this simply doesn't happen. It's as harmless as the sound you hear when you crack your knuckles.

The back consists of several bones known as vertebrae separated and cushioned by oval pads called discs. The discs tend to "dry out" over the years and the vertebrae can then grind against each other causing pain. Secondly, as mentioned a bulging disc can impinge on a nerve, or the nerve can be pinched between the vertebrae.

To keep the back in proper condition there are the following exercises that can be done daily in just 10 minutes so that your muscles will protect your spine as recommended by Dr. Hamilton Hall in his book "The Back Doctor".

Furthermore, the activities of daily living we must protect our spines by avoiding arching our backs. When lifting objects, let your knees do the work by squatting - don't pick up heavy objects at arm's length if you can hug it against your body. There is no reason why people should deprive themselves of recreational activities they enjoy providing they have a basic understanding of the structure and proper maintenance of their spine. Most people will get long term prevention of recurrent back pain providing they do these exercises daily, and can avoid the dangers and side effects of pain pills and muscle relaxing pills by this common sense approach. Hope it works for you!

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to give my sincere thanks to Dr. Lopsinger and his staff at the Haliburton Hospital for their alertness and the fact that they were able to put up with me when my brains were a little scrambled, Dr. Beamer and the nursing staff at St. Joseph's Hospital in Peterborough for their patience with me when I was scared beyond belief, and to the ambulance drivers and to all the people whose prayers were with me. But most of all, to Harris Steele and the rest of my work crew for their quick thinking, because without it, my present condition would have been far worse. Thank you so very much.

Mike Amyotte

IN MEMORIAM

Thinking of the things
We used to do and say.
Just you and I.
Sometimes they make me smile
Sometimes they make me cry
But are precious to me alone
Memories of you and I.

Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by Annie.

MISCIO: Mike. In loving memory of a dear Father and Grandfather who was called to rest September 25, 1972.

Papa is such a special word
A word that brings to mind
A big warm smile
A helping hand.
A way of being kind
Devotion to his family
A word of patience too
Papa is such a special word
Because it stands for you.

Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by Daughter Vera, grandfather of Tommy and family.

MISCIO: Mike. In loving memory of a dear Father and Grandfather who passed away September 25, 1972.

What we'd give if we could say

IN MEMORIAM

Hello papa, in the same old way
To hear your voice, see your smile
To sit with you and chat a while
So you who have a Father
Cherish him with care
For you'll never know the heartache
Till you see his vacant chair.

Forever in our hearts and sadly missed by

Daughter Nell and grandchildren.
